Intel shuts down plant

From page 11
The Intel Corp. is closing the last of its computer assembly plants in the Philippines.

The company said it will close the plant in the Philippines by the end of the year. The plant, which was established in 1984, was one of the largest in the country. It employed about 1,000 workers. The company said it was closing the plant because of a decline in demand for its products in the Philippines.

Contrasting Aussie Open victories for Serena, Nadal

WIMBLEDON, ENGLAND (AP) — Venus Williams' first-round exit from Wimbledon on Monday was a stark contrast to her sister Serena's victory over Maria Sharapova in the same round. Venus, who has won Wimbledon twice, was defeated by the 19-year-old Russian in straight sets. The loss was a disappointment for Venus, who has been struggling in recent months. She had lost to Sharapova in the quarterfinals of the Australian Open and the quarterfinals of the French Open. Venus said she was "definitely disappointed" but added that she would "take the loss and move on."

China's economic growth fell sharply in the fourth quarter, while Japan's exports hit a record low.

The Chinese government reported that its gross domestic product (GDP) grew by 6.9 percent in the fourth quarter, down from 7.7 percent in the third quarter.

Analysts say the slowdown is due to a combination of factors, including a drop in exports and a decline in investment.

Japan's exports fell by 1.1 percent in the fourth quarter, the lowest in over a year.

The decline is attributed to a drop in exports to the United States and Europe.

FFF's student dilemma

By The Bureau

It's a dilemma that faces many students in the Philippines. They are faced with the choice of whether to join the FFF or not. The FFF is a government agency that provides financial assistance to students. However, joining the FFF also means that students will have to work for the agency. This can be a challenge for students who are still in school. They may not have enough time to study and work. Additionally, they may not have the necessary skills to perform the job. On the other hand, not joining the FFF means that students will not have access to the financial assistance they need. This can make it difficult for them to pay for their education. They may also have to take on a large amount of debt. The decision is a difficult one, and students must weigh the pros and cons carefully. If they decide to join the FFF, they must be prepared to work hard and manage their time effectively. If they decide not to join, they must be prepared to find other ways to pay for their education.

MARKETING STRATEGY

The FFF's marketing strategy is aimed at attracting students to join the agency. They use a variety of methods, including social media, television commercials, and direct mail. They also offer free financial counseling to students who are interested in joining. The FFF's goal is to increase the number of students who join the agency and to provide them with the financial assistance they need to complete their education. The FFF's marketing strategy has been successful in the past, and they expect it to continue to be successful in the future. They will continue to use a variety of methods to attract students and to provide them with the financial assistance they need.

Commercials with double meanings spawn debate

By The Bureau

There is a growing debate about the appropriateness of commercials that contain double meanings. Some people believe that these commercials are inappropriate and that they should be banned. They argue that these commercials are designed to attract attention and that they are often used to sell products that are not of high quality. They also argue that these commercials are often used to sell products that are harmful to health. On the other hand, some people believe that these commercials are a form of artistic expression and that they should be allowed. They argue that these commercials are often used to sell products that are of high quality and that they are often used to sell products that are beneficial to health. The debate is ongoing, and there is no clear answer as to whether these commercials should be banned or not.

Ill-advised veto of right to information

By Joseph B. Joyce

COMMENTARY

The Bill of Rights is a cornerstone of our nation's identity. It guarantees the fundamental freedoms of speech, religion, and assembly. It is the foundation upon which our democracy is built. The right to information is a critical component of this foundation. It allows citizens to know what their government is doing and to hold it accountable. The veto of this right is a serious threat to our democracy.

Citi set to consolidate thrift, finance units in RP

PMD

By The P.C. Journal

NEW YORK — Citicorp announced today that it plans to consolidate its thrift and finance units in the Republic of the Philippines (RP) into a single entity, Citicorp Finance Corp. The move is part of a broader strategy to streamline operations and improve efficiency across the company's international divisions.

The consolidation will involve the merger of Citicorp Finance Corp. and Citicorp Savings Bank, which have been operating as separate entities in the RP. The new entity will be responsible for all of the company's financial services in the country, including banking, insurance, and investment services.

Citicorp officials said that the consolidation is expected to result in significant cost savings and improved service to customers. They also noted that the move is in line with the company's long-term goal of becoming a more integrated financial institution.

Efficient wardrobe planner

By PHILIP L. LEE

A wardrobe planner is a tool to help you organize your closet. It's a simple idea, but it can be a game-changer for those who struggle with a cluttered wardrobe.

Wardrobe planners come in many forms, from simple checklists to complex digital tools. The key is to find one that works for your lifestyle and preferences.

For example, some planners focus on color coordination, while others emphasize seasonal organization. Some even include features like outfit inspiration and shopping lists.

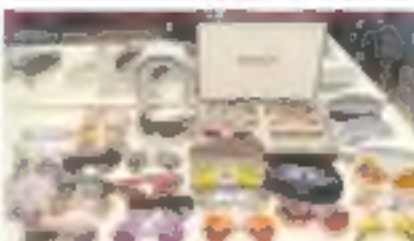

Whether you're a fashion enthusiast or just looking for a way to keep your closet in order, a wardrobe planner can be a valuable tool. It helps you see the big picture and make decisions about what to keep, what to donate, and what to buy.

Benefits

One of the main benefits of a wardrobe planner is that it helps you declutter your closet. By taking inventory of what you own, you can identify items that you no longer wear or need.

Another benefit is that it helps you save money. By knowing what you already own, you can avoid buying duplicate items. Additionally, many planners include tips on how to care for your clothes, which can help them last longer.

Finally, a wardrobe planner can help you get the most out of your wardrobe. By organizing your clothes by color or season, you can find what you need more easily and get more ideas for how to style your outfits.
